She has been frequently seen in and about Charles-Town, where she has gone about washing by the name of Delia, and is suspected to be encouraged and concealed by some white people, who have received wages of her, and others who have a desire to purchase her. But whereas the said two negroes are now, and have been for some time, the sole property of the subscriber, I do therefore forewarn all persons whatsoever, from either harbouring, concealing, hiring, or any wise entertaining the said wench and boy, on any pretence whatsoever; for such persons as are, or can be proved guilty of such villainous practices, may assure themselves of being prosecuted to the utmost rigour of the law. I also promise a reward of Ten Pounds, besides lawful charges, to any person or persons, Patroles or others, if they can apprehend the said negroes, and either deliver them to me at the Free School in St. Thomas Parish, or secure them in the common goal in Charles-Town. Stephen Hartley.
